Robanda Safari Camp re-opened after a programme of enhancements and upgrades was completed in mid 2010.

Robanda Safari Camp is set on a prime location for an unforgettable bush experience. The position was carefully chosen to be right in the path of the wildebeest migration, ensuring spectacular game viewing during the migration. But the camp also boasts of high resident game concentration all year round, with big herds of wildebeest and zebra, elephant and giraffe. Other animal species include lion, hyena, gazelle, topi, buffalo... Being situated outside the Serengeti National Park, night game drives and walking safaris are also highlights to a stay at the camp.

This small and intimate camp with 5 budget and 5 luxury tents is also an ideal place for honeymoon couples who do not want to experience the hustle and bustle of larger camps.

The luxury tents are very spacious, with either double or twin beds and annex bathroom. The private veranda looks out over the Serengeti plains, where herds of wildebeest and zebras can be seen. The "bush style" tents are in fact mobile tents, which have been set up in a permanent way. Each tent has its own private bathroom with bush shower and toilet.

The panoramic open restaurant and bar serves fine cuisine, and offers drinks and cocktails from the fully stocked bar. Relax here with your drink while observing animals drinking from the water hole only 30 meters away from the bar.

Located nearby is the Ikoma Airstrip which means you can be with us in next to no time and avoid the long drive through the park should you prefer a shorter journey.
